

ELEVEN KILLED IN ELECTRIC STORM

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Chicago, April 20.—Eleven dead, scores injured and property damage that will run into hundreds of thousands was the toll today of a general electric storm which struck the Mississippi valley late last night.
Six persons are reported dead at Storer, Mo., and dozens injured. A special train has left Eldon, Mo., over the Rock Island, to give relief to the stricken city.
In Chicago a 45 mile gale swept the city, damaging buildings and tangling telephone and telegraph wires. One man was killed. He was struck by lightning as he lay in bed.
Kansas reported three dead in as many different parts of the state. Roads in the rural districts are choked with debris of wrecked barns and fences.
A child was killed at Rich Hill, Mo., and several were injured when a miniature tornado struck the village just before daylight.
The "twisters" swept through north central Iowa and southern Minnesota, injuring scores of persons and doing extensive property damage. At Briceville, Minn., seven persons were injured, some seriously.

MALDEN RAILROAD MAY BE BUILT

It is rumored in the Catskills that President James P. Philip of the Catskill National Bank, who recently purchased the Catskill Mountain Railroad, may construct a railroad to Malden instead of operating trains on the present road from Catskill to the foot of the Otis Incline Railroad at Palenville. The Catskill Mountain Railroad is the connecting link between Catskill and the foot of the last named road and is necessary to convey passengers from the Hudson River Day Line. Providing Mr. Philip cannot come to an agreement with the Day Line, the road to Malden will be built, according to the rumor. In all probability the day boats will then be obliged to stop at Malden instead of Catskill. Although the attorneys who conducted the sale stated that the receipts on this railroad were $2,500 less than operating expenses, the property was sold for $250,000.

JAIL CONFINEMENT CAUSES HEADACHE

William Conro Pleads Hard Not to Be Sent to Jail as It Would Give Him a Headache—Allowed One Hour to Get Out of Town.
William Conro of Windham, Greene county, was picked up by Sergeant Hanley on Wednesday afternoon on a charge of panhandling, and this morning he was arraigned before Recorder Lang, who after hearing Conro's plea for clemency gave him one hour to get out of town and informed him that if he was arrested again he would be sent to the pen at Albany.
Conro some time ago walked into the Wauna Sanitarium, according to the police, and said he was ill. He was examined and it was found that there was nothing the matter with him. This morning while he was in the lockup awaiting arraignment he began to groan to himself and complain that his head hurt him.
In court he told a rambling story and said that he did not know he was doing wrong in asking for work, which he claimed he was doing. He told a story of how he had traveled throughout the middle west and that if he was allowed to go he would walk to Philadelphia. He said that although he was sickly it would only take him a day or so as he would walk slow.
He said that he was injured in Detroit and since then his head had bothered him. He was sick however, of hospitals and wanted to try the fresh air cure. "Oh your honor," he pleaded, addressing the court, while the tears began to flow from his eyes. "It would hurt my head if I went to jail. If you let me go I promise you I won't appear before you again."
The court after listening to Conro's tale gave him one hour to get out of town and if arrested again he would be sent to the penitentiary at Albany.
Conro said he had relatives living in this vicinity.

NURSES' APPRECIATION.

Alumni Association Presents Loving Cup to Miss Moore.
At a special meeting of the Alumni Association of Nurses of the City of Kingston Hospital, resolutions were drawn expressing the nurses' appreciation of Miss Moore, the former superintendent of the hospital, for her services to the training school, and kindness to the nurses who have trained under her supervision.
During the twenty-three years which the hospital has been in existence, Miss Moore has served as superintendent eighteen years and has graduated ninety nurses. Through her efforts the training school has gained the requirements prescribed by the State Board of Regents at Albany, thus being recognized as a registered school. Miss Moore has always stood as an example of the highest expression of womanly dignity, which she imparted to her nurses, being just in her discipline, standing always for the truth, hating sham, and displaying executive ability. As a token of this appreciation, the Association presented Miss Moore with a loving cup.
A Patient's Appreciation.
Saugerties, N. Y.
To the Editor of The Freeman:
Dear Sir: A word in behalf of M. A. C. Moore, former superintendent of the Kingston City Hospital. I was a patient at that hospital for several months and can't speak too highly of Miss Moore; she was more than kind and I was the recipient of the most tender care; my friends and relatives were always received with courtesy; have also employed at different times, nurses who received training under Miss Moore, who gave satisfaction in every respect. To my way of thinking, Miss Moore was kind, noble, honorable and goodness itself, and deserving of great credit to hold such a position for eighteen years.

FULL TEXT OF NOTE SENT TO BERLIN

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, April 20.—The full text of the note to Berlin, addressed to Ambassador Gerard, follows:
You are instructed to deliver to the secretary of foreign affairs a communication reading as follows:
I did not fail to transmit immediately, by telegram, to your government your excellency's note of the 10th instant in regard to certain attacks by German submarines, and particularly in regard to the disastrous explosion which on March 24, last, wrecked the French steamship Sussex in the English Channel. I have now the honor to deliver, under instructions from my government, the following reply to your excellency:
Information now in the possession of the government of the United States fully establishes the facts in the case of the Sussex, and the inferences which my government has drawn from that information. It regards as confirmed by the circumstances set forth in your excellency's note of the 10th instant. On the 24th of March, 1916, at about 2:50 o'clock in the afternoon, the unarmed steamer Sussex, with 325 or more passengers on board, among whom were a number of American citizens, was torpedoed while crossing from Folkestone to Dieppe. The Sussex had never been armed; was a vessel known to be habitually used only for the conveyance of passengers across the English Channel, and was not following the route taken by troop ships or supply ships. About eighty of her passengers, non-combatants of all ages and sexes, including citizens of the United States, were killed or injured.
A careful, impartial and scrupulously impartial investigation by naval and military officers of the United States has conclusively established the fact that the Sussex was torpedoed without warning or summons to surrender, and that the torpedo by which she was struck was of German manufacture. In view of the government of the United States these facts from the first made the conclusion that the torpedo was fired by a German submarine unavoidable. It now considers that conclusion substantiated by the statements of your excellency's note. A full statement of the facts upon which the government of the United States has based its conclusion is inclosed.
The government of the United States, after having given careful consideration to the note of the Imperial Government of the 10th of April, regrets to state that the impression made upon it by the statement that a note is inclosed in which the Imperial Government has failed to appreciate the gravity of the situation which has resulted not alone from the attack on the Sussex, but from the whole warfare and character of submarine warfare as disclosed by the unrestrained practice of the commanders of German undersea craft during the past twelve months and more in the indiscriminate destruction of merchant vessels of all sorts, nationalities and destinations.
If the sinking of the Sussex had been an isolated case the government of the United States might find it possible to hope that the officer who was responsible for that act had willfully violated his orders or had been criminally negligent in taking none of the precautions they prescribed, and that the ends of justice might be satisfied by imposing upon him an adequate punishment, coupled with a formal disavowal of the act and payment of a suitable indemnity by the Imperial Government.
But, though the attack upon the Sussex was manifestly indefensible and caused a loss of life so tragic as to make it stand forth as one of the most terrible examples of the inhumanity of submarine warfare as the commanders of German vessels are conducting it, it unhappily does not stand alone.
On the contrary, the government of the United States is forced by recent events to conclude that it is only one instance, even though one of the most extreme and most distressing instances, of the deliberate method and spirit of indiscriminate destruction of merchant vessels of all sorts, nationalities and destinations which have become more and more unmistakable as the activity of German undersea vessels of war has in recent months been quickened and extended.
The Imperial Government will recall that when, in February, 1915, it announced its intention of treating the waters surrounding Great Britain and Ireland as embraced within the seat of war and of destroying all merchant ships owned by its enemies that might be found within that zone of danger, and warned all vessels, neutral as well as belligerent, to keep out of the waters thus proscribed or to enter them at their peril, the government of the United States earnestly protested. It took the position that such a policy could not be pursued without constant gross and palpable violations of the accepted law of nations, particularly if submarine craft were to be employed as its instruments, inasmuch as the rules prescribed by that law, rules founded on the principles of humanity and established for the protection of the lives of non-combatants at sea, could not in the nature of the case be observed by such vessels. It based its protest on the ground that persons of neutral nationality and month, of neutral ownership would be exposed to extreme and intolerable risks; and that no right to States has been very patient. At every stage of this distressing experience of tragedy after tragedy it has sought to be governed by the most thoughtful consideration of the law of nations in these mat-

GEN. CARRANZA AND GOV. GONZALES. (UNITED PRESS SERVICE.)
WILL THEY ORDER THEIR TROOPS TO ATTACK AMERICAN SOLDIERS?

Gen. Carranza and Gov. Gonzales.
Considerable mystery surrounds the sudden movement of Carranza and his cabinet to Mexico City. Reports from various sources in Mexico declare that Carranza has lost control of the situation and does not know what may be done by his troops.
Governor Gonzales is General Obregon's chief aide. He is quoted as saying that "The hour of proof has come, and the Mexican people may be sure that I will be at the front of the most ardent, devoted patriots."
ters, upon which the government of the United States based that protest, is not of recent origin or founded upon merely arbitrary principles set up by convention. It is based, on the contrary, upon manifest principles of humanity and has long been established with the approval and by the express assent of all civilized nations.
The Imperial Government, notwithstanding, persisted in carrying out the policy announced, expressing the hope that the dangers involved, at any rate to neutral vessels, would be reduced to a minimum by the instructions which it had issued to the commanders of its submarines and assuring the government of the United States that it would take every possible precaution both to respect the rights of neutrals and to combat the use of non-combatants.
In pursuance of this policy of submarine warfare against the commerce of its adversaries, thus announced and thus entered upon in despite of the solemn protest of the government of the United States, the commanders of the Imperial Government's undersea vessels have carried on practices of such ruthless destruction which have made it more and more evident as the months have gone by that the Imperial Government has found it impracticable to put any such restraint upon them as it had hoped and promised to put. Again and again the Imperial Government has given its solemn assurances to the government of the United States that at least passenger ships would not be thus dealt with, and yet it has repeatedly permitted its undersea commanders to disregard those assurances with entire impunity. As recently as February last it gave notice that it would regard all armed merchantmen owned by its enemies as part of the armed naval forces of its adversaries and deal with them as with men-of-war, thus, at least by implication, pledging itself to give warning to vessels which were not armed and to accord security of life to their passengers and crews; but even this limitation of their submarine commanders have recklessly ignored.
Vessels of neutral ownership, even vessels of neutral ownership bound from neutral port to neutral port, have been destroyed, along with vessels of belligerent ownership, in constantly increasing numbers. Some of the merchantmen attacked have been warned and summoned to surrender before being fired on or torpedoed; sometimes their passengers and crews have been vouchsafed the poor security of being allowed to take to the ship's boats before the ship was sent to the bottom. But again and again no warning has been given, no escape even to the ship's boats allowed to those on board.
Great liners like the Lusitania and Arabic and mere passenger boats like the Sussex have been attacked without a moment's warning, often before they have even become aware that they were in the presence of the armed ship of the enemy, and the lives of non-combatants, passengers and crew have been destroyed wholesale and in a manner which the Government of the United States cannot but regard as wanton and without the slightest color of justification. No limit of any kind has in fact been set to their indiscriminate pursuit and destruction of merchantmen of all kinds and nationalities within the waters which the Imperial Government has chosen to designate as lying within the seat of war. The roll of lives of Americans who have lost their lives upon ships thus attacked and destroyed has grown month by month, until the ominous toll has mounted into the hundreds.
The Government of the United States has been very patient. At every stage of this distressing experience of tragedy after tragedy it has sought to be governed by the most thoughtful consideration of the law of nations in these mat-

PRESERVING SCENIC BEAUTIES OF STATE

The senate on Wednesday confirmed by unanimous vote Governor Whitman's appointment of Judge Clearwater to be a member of the Commission of the State Reservation at Niagara Falls.
The reservation consists of land reserved or purchased by the state for the purpose of preserving the scenery of the falls, and restoring such scenery to its natural condition. It includes the great falls, parks, drives and the bank of the Niagara river for several miles above the falls. Judge Clearwater's appointment is due to his attitude in the Constitutional Convention regarding the conservation of the natural beauties and waters of the state. In that convention he expressed his views with force and warmth, stating that the state was pursuing a most erroneous course in permitting the great municipalities to divert the waters or various streams without compensation to the residents of the territory through which the waters flow.
In speaking of the diversion of the Esopus for the construction of the Ashokan reservoir, and its connecting aqueduct he said that it was admitted that the diversion of these waters would add billions of dollars to the value of property in New York, Brooklyn and Long Island, and yet it would be eternally diverted without a penny of compensation to the people of Ulster, Greene and Schoharie counties, and with but meager compensation to the owners of the lands which had been condemned and taken for its construction. In addition he said that judges and courts had been inquisitorial in seeking to deprive the owners of lands of the rights conferred upon them by the legislature, and the state board of water supply, and that when the history on judicial interference fully was written the people of the state would be astounded at the part played by judicial patronage in the matter.

NORTH RONDOUT RESIDENTS INDIGNANT

B. P. W. Grant Petition by Dumping Two Loads of Stone on One of the Streets—Holes in Road Have to be Filled in Before Funerals Can Pass By.
Residents of North Rondout who prepared and submitted a petition to the board of public works at the last meeting, calling attention to the impassable condition of many of the streets in North Rondout, are indignant over the fact that the only notice taken by the board was to have two wagon loads of crushed stone dumped on First avenue.
At a special meeting of the board held the other day the board outlined considerable work on the city streets uptown, and a few streets downtown, but made no provision for doing any work on the North Rondout streets.
Residents say that undertakers having funerals in that section were forced to call up the street superintendent and have him send men over to fill in holes in the street before funeral corteges could pass through.
It is claimed by the residents in that section that at a very slight outlay of money the streets could be placed in a passable condition.

CHURCH COUNCIL TO SELECT CANDIDATES

The Vacancy in the Pastorate on the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer Will Likely be Referred to Church Council.
This evening the congregation of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer on Wurts street will hold a meeting in the church parlors at which time the resignation of the pastor, the Rev. Howard E. Snyder, will be accepted.
The selection of a pastor to succeed Pastor Snyder will undoubtedly be referred to the church council to select candidates who will preach at the church services. After hearing several candidates a selection will be made and a call extended to the successful candidate.
As told in The Freeman at the time, Pastor Snyder resigned to accept a call as the University Students pastor at Madison, Wisconsin. He will take up his duties at the University of Wisconsin the first Sunday in May.

MYSTERIOUS MANIAC FROM WOODSTOCK

Says His Name is James Meyer and Was Found Wandering Along the Road—Had Money in His Pockets.
A stranger, who gave his name as James Meyer, was found wandering along one of the roads near Woodstock by a man named Hasbrouck Wednesday. He said he was hungry. He was picked up and taken to Woodstock, where Dr. Downer pronounced him insane. Deputy Sheriff Albert Cashdollar brought the man to the court house in the afternoon and this morning Mrs. J. T. Buckley and William J. O'Leary, after an examination, decided that the man should be sent to the Middletown Hospital for Insane. The commitment papers were signed by Judge Jenkins. An attendant from the hospital took Meyer on the West Shore for Cornwall, where the transfer to Middletown was made.
Unknown to any of the residents of Woodstock the identity of the insane man is a mystery. He had no papers which would give a trace of his home or name. When the automobile in which he had been brought from Woodstock stopped in front of the court house Wednesday afternoon, he balked at getting out and became violent upon entering his cell. He had a delusion that Deputy Sheriff Robert Ervory was trying to kill him and that he was the same man who had murdered Meyer's mother some time before. His mind wandered a great deal while in the jail. He was committed to the hospital under the name of John Doe, but it is most likely his correct name is James Meyer, the name which he gave today when his condition was most nearly normal. Kelly, Sheeley and Murphy were other names which he uttered when asked his own name.
A search of his clothing revealed $25.33 in the pockets of the working clothes which he wore. At the time he was found he wore overalls, a brown coat, and soft hat. He is thin, weighing about 145 pounds, and measuring about 5 feet, 6 inches in height. His face is very thin and his nose prominent. The forehead is narrow and he has a receding chin.
None of the Woodstock people know who the relatives of the unfortunate man are and if by the description of the man anyone recognizes a missing member of the family, they should communicate with the county authorities.

The Yacht Sold at Auction Bought by J. A. Canfield, Who Later Sells to J. D. Schoonmaker—Yacht Shultz Met With Mishap.
John D. Schoonmaker has purchased the steam yacht Elihu Bunker from J. A. Canfield, and the yacht is now tied up to the dock of the boathouse of the Schoonmaker, Connors Company, up the creek. Just what disposition Mr. Schoonmaker will make of the yacht is not known.
The yacht was sold last Saturday at public auction at the Mansion House to settle up the Blodgett estate and was purchased by Mr. Canfield, whose bid was $1,800. Just what Mr. Schoonmaker paid Mr. Canfield for the yacht is not known.
Wednesday afternoon the steam yacht C. A. Shultz sprung one of the side plates in the hull, causing a slight leak. The boat was hauled off the route and placed on the dry dock at Hiltbrand's yard, where repairs were made. Owing to the mishap the yacht was unable to make the 6 o'clock trip Wednesday evening. She started on the route to Eddyville today, making the 11 o'clock trip this morning.

MORE GOOD TABLE THINGS.

Apples are almost always in the market, a fruit which lends itself to many uses, wholesome and appetizing.

Apple Fluff.—Grate a large apple, add a half cupful of sugar and the white of an egg unbeaten, beat until it is stiff enough to stand, place in a glass dish and pour over it a custard made by using the yolk of the egg, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and a cupful of milk, flavor, and after cooking cool before serving.

Fruit Juice Pie.—Take two and a half tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, add one-fourth of a cupful of sugar, a teaspoonful of butter, a pinch of salt, and the yolks of two eggs. Cook all together, adding the egg yolk at the last. Cover with a meringue of the whites after the filled crust has been baked.

Prune Puff.—Take a cupful of prunes soaked and cooked until tender, add a teaspoonful of lemon juice, a cupful of flour, five tablespoonfuls of sugar, a half teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one egg and a third of a cupful of milk. Put the prunes in a baking dish and pour the batter over them. Bake in a moderate oven until brown. Cut in squares and serve hot with sweetened and flavored whipped cream.

Pork Cake.—Take a pound of fat salt pork, chopped fine, pour over it a pint of boiling water, add two cupfuls of sugar, a cupful of molasses and a teaspoonful of soda stirred into it. Add spices to taste and flour enough to mix well, adding currants, raisins and citron. A good plan is to bake a small cake to see if it is of the right consistency.

Cabbage With Cream.—Cook a medium-sized cabbage in an open kettle until tender. Drain and lay in a buttered baking dish, pour over it a sauce made of four tablespoonfuls of butter and two of flour, add a cupful of rich milk and a half cupful of rich grated cheese; when the sauce is thick stir in the cheese, and pour over the cabbage, set in the oven to get hot and serve at once.

A Word to the Wise

An inspection of our WALL PAPER stock will enable our customers to find the designs for which they are seeking.

A scarcity of materials and dye-stuffs required for the making of paper has caused the price of Wall Paper to advance very much.

Fortunate in placing our order for a large supply before these conditions obtained, we are prepared to sell the VERY BEST WALL PAPERS at extremely low prices at the present time, but delays are dangerous when the market is so uncertain.

—practically all of them—have been made on Indians with the CRADLE SPRING FRAME.

For it's only on the Indian that you find this remarkable comfort mechanism—the device that, on rough roads, gives you the sensation of sail-boating on smooth waters.

The difference between Cradle Spring Frame riding and that of the ordinary shock absorbing devices is the difference between walking on iron heel plates and rubber heels—between riding in a farm tractor and a high-grade motor car.

The Cradle Spring Frame has more than comfort and ease in its favor. It keeps shocks from jolting motor mechanism. It absorbs the jars and bruises which the tires ordinarily suffer. Low upkeep cost results—greater mileage, less general tinkering.

Come in and test its velvety "give". Find out why you can travel fastest on roughest roads with the Cradle Spring Frame.

U. S. TROOPS "DIGGING IN" IN MEXICO.

Ostensibly to keep in practice and to prevent the rains from flooding their tents during the rainy season which is approaching, the American troops at Colonia Dublan are "digging in." This is the military term for digging trenches. With the river at their backs, they have formed intrenchments on three sides of the Mormon colony at Colonia Dublan, and mountain guns set up in the intrenchments, command all other approaches. This photograph shows a section of the trenches at Colonia Dublan. Note the trench is cut back around a square just behind the soldier standing in the foreground. This is to prevent the destruction of the men in the trenches from enfilading fire should a section be captured.

JUNIORS SCORE SUCCESS.

Play at High School Auditorium Made a Great Hit.

A success in every way was the Junior Play presented Wednesday night by the junior class of the high school in the auditorium where a large audience enjoyed a most entertaining program. A piano solo by Miss Ruby Markson was the first number and then the prologue for the first part of the entertainment was read by Miss Ruth Ashler, who held the attention of her auditors throughout.

The first act of "Mr. Stryver Proposes to Wed," in which Kenneth Van Oostenbrugge and John Joyce figured as Stryver and Carton respectively, followed and the actors acquitted themselves ably as was also the case in the second act. Here the scene was laid in a bank office with James Dempsey in a most acceptable portrayal of the prim Mr. Lorry. The audience applauded both acts with enthusiasm.

Between the acts, Miss Dugan, accompanied by Miss Markson, sang a solo and responded to an encore.

The stage setting for the third act received much praise, the sitting room of a girls' boarding school being most artistically set forth with screens, college pennants and most attractive willow furniture.

Alice Scott as Kathleen O'Brady, a seminary maid, played her important part in most fitting fashion while the good fortune of the class in being supplied with pretty girls was exhibited in marked degree by the pupils whose parts were taken in most animated style by the Misses Esther Rodie, Ruth Shafer and Anna Roach. Eugene Gleason as the professor was in appropriate garb and proved adept in exhibiting authority, embarrassment and love-making as called for in the role. Aubrey Arnet as Jones, man of all work, carried off his share of the honors while the three college students, Raymond DuNond, Earl Gill and Laurence Cavanaugh, each made a distinct hit on their successive appearances via the window route. Alberta Silkworth as Miss Ophelia Judkins and the most difficult girl's part and made many a laugh in her changes from the stern school mistress to the simpering old maid. All in all the naturalness of all the performers and the absence of any hesitation or stage fright contributed materially to the successful presentation of the play for which credit is due the self-sacrificing teacher who directed the entire production.

It is safe to say that the entertainment was of such quality that twice the admission price of 15 cents would not have been excessive. The lower figure was fixed because of the proximity of the Senior play which falls a week from Friday night. The excellent make-up of the performers, due to the work of Miss Doux and Mr. Dally, the latter the manager for the senior play, aided materially in the stage effects.

The juniors have not grown wealthy on their play even though they had a large audience and the expenses were kept down to $15 or $20. Yet they had the satisfaction of giving the audience its money's worth and more without regrets on either side.

Following the performance, the cast and assistants together with Principal Moulton and the stage manager were served with a grand spread prepared by the girls. The boys zealously cleaned up following the refreshments which were much appreciated and proved a fitting feature for the conclusion of the evening's activities. The assistance of Principal Moulton, the efficiency of the school printers and the support given by all connected with the production were the subjects of appreciative expressions from members of the Junior Class.

all in his power to make the rally the greatest in the history of the church. Major Smith's accession to the ranks of the "drys" is held up as one of the most significant events in the history of temperance reform. He himself declares that he did not have far to travel from the ranks of advocates of regulation as a remedy to the forces for prohibition of the liquor traffic. His experience, he states, is that prohibition can and does prohibit and his summation up for that side of the case is said to be one of the most eloquent heard on any platform.

THE VLY.

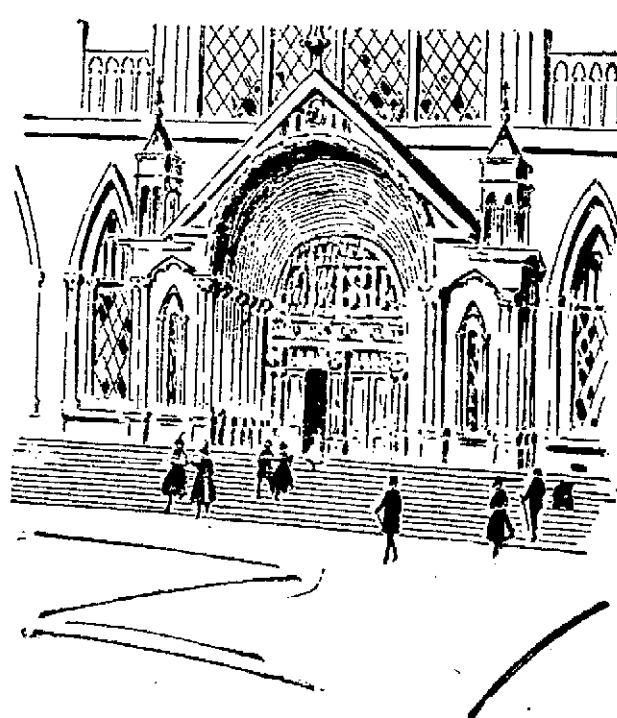

The Vly. April 20.—The B. B. S. will hold an Easter party at the M. E. Church Hall on Monday evening, April 24. At stormy next fair evening. An up-to-date Easter supper will be served. DON'T SPREAD THE DUST WHEN

"Making the dust fly" certainly describes the usual method of sweeping. Even dusting caps don't really keep the hair clean and your throat becomes literally choked. But this is all past now. There is a better way to sweep—a dustless way. And it's so simple too. Just sprinkle a little Nomordust across the floor and then sweep it ahead of you as you go. Nomordust holds the dust and keeps it from spreading. It enables you to get the room much cleaner too, for you don't spread the dust to another part of the room with every stroke of the broom. With Nomordust you can clean any room in half the time with half the effort, and you only have to sweep half as often, because you get your rooms so much cleaner every time you sweep. As one housekeeper expressed it, "It is just like having an extra maid—she has so much time for other things." Let Nomordust cost but a few pennies a month. Get a 10c can to-day at your favorite grocer—be it refund your money if you're not more than pleased.

BERLIN OPPOSED TO OPEN BREAK

Washington Officials Hopeful of a Peaceful Outcome of the Controversy With the German Government.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, April 20.—Despite the admitted gravity of the international situation, so far as the United States and Germany are concerned, the sources close to President Wilson today for the first time in a week expressed hopes that a diplomatic break, with its consequent danger of war, yet will be avoided. The Berlin foreign office, the president has been advised, it was learned, is utterly opposed to any open break if it can be prevented. Some of the leading officials there are understood to have prepared statements for submission to the Kaiser and the imperial chancellor, citing the statistics of the submarine campaign for the past fifteen months to show that only five per cent of the allied shipping has suffered. This gain is declared to have been more than offset by the loss of German submarines.

Just what was the source of this report was impossible of determination. It was widely circulated throughout the senate and the house by administration leaders but not a single one of them would say for publication where the information came from. There was no disguising the fact, however, that it was considered reliable and that it had materially relieved the over-tension, as a result of making public the report, administration followers on the senate and house foreign affairs committees claimed that they had complete control of the situation in both branches of congress and that no embarrassing resolutions of any kind would be made subject of debate that might complicate the situation.

Ambassador Von Bernstorff conferred with Secretary of State Lansing at length today. While the primary object of the conference was the arrest of Wolf Von Igel, arrested in New York last Tuesday, and the ambassador's demand that not only shall Von Igel be released but that all documents seized at that time be turned back as embassy documents, the general submarine situation was discussed. It is understood that the ambassador asked whether a duplication of the position taken in regard to Mediterranean shipping would satisfy this government, but that the secretary simply reiterated that there can be no discussion of any phase of the situation until Germany abandons her present methods.

A decided difference of opinion has developed between Secretary Lansing and Count Von Bernstorff as to what an "immediate" reply in connection with the German ultimatum really is. Mr. Lansing insists that it ought to be handed to Ambassador Gerard not later than Sunday. This the ambassador believes is impossible. He told the secretary today that he did not believe that the government had the text of the note before it yet but that even though it had, it could not be expected to decide a matter of such supreme importance off-hand. The ambassador pointed out that Easter Sunday and Monday were solemn feast and fast days in Germany and rigidly observed. Then with the Kaiser at the front it would require time to present the entire subject to him, which will have to be done. Count Von Bernstorff indicated that in his opinion it would require a week or ten days before the definite reply of the German government would be ready for presentation to the United States. Counselor Polk told Ambassador Von Bernstorff that all of the papers seized following the arrest of Von Igel which are proper embassy documents will be turned back to the embassy. The claim of immunity for Von Igel, on the ground that he was actually an attaché of the embassy and thus illegally indicted, still is under consideration by Secretary Lansing and Counselor Polk.

Howard E. Wilcox has returned from several days' visit and rest in Baltimore, where he spent the time delightfully with his brother and wife, the Rev. and Mrs. William Wilcox, and he had the pleasure of hearing the great evangelist, the Rev. Braid trimming is seen on many of the late semi tailored suits, and undoubtedly it does lend a trim clean cut finish to the garment. Varying widths are used sometimes in matching tone and often in contrasting effects. An apple green cheviot suit is shown here with circular skirt and smart darning coat. The simple button trimmed pique vest is evident in front showing in vivid contrast to the long line of the revere collar. Black military braid is introduced in this instance, binding the entire edge of the coat, the cuffs and buttons trimmed pockets.

ONE CENT A WORD ADVS. BRING RESULTS

CLEAN UP WEEK BEGINS MAY 1

The action of the board of health in deciding for a "Clean-up Week" in Kingston is in line with similar action already taken in other cities and will conform with state-wide observance of such a week which will be asked by Commissioner of Public Health Hermann M. Biggs in an open letter to mayors and presidents of cities and villages throughout the state. The action of the state health department is taken at the suggestion of Governor Whitman, who had been asked to proclaim a Clean-up Week by representatives of several cities.

Schenectady has adopted the most elaborate preliminary plans and its clean-up week will be thorough. Clean-up week will occur there from May 1 to 6, inclusive, at which time patrolmen, in connection with the taking of the annual dog census, have been instructed by the commissioner of public safety to inspect yards. Every dwelling will be visited by the police and owners will be advised to prepare the winter's accumulation of refuse for removal by the collectors. Residents will be warned especially against violating the local ordinance which requires closed bins for refuse.

There is such an ordinance in Kingston and in most other cities of the state, and its strict enforcement has been found of the greatest aid in the universal campaign against flies. Supplementing the police visit in Schenectady, the fire chief will detail firemen to inspect every building from attic to cellar. Fire measures will be sought in these inspections and the chief will instruct firemen to report all cases of insanitation. The school authorities also will be asked to aid by dismissing school for one afternoon in order that pupils may assist their families in cleaning homes and yards. The street bureau will co-operate with the ash and garbage collectors in removing accumulations of refuse from homes.

Clean-up week in Kingston had its inception with the women's clubs. Officials everywhere have been busy inaugurating such a week for several years but the movement has spread gradually. In many cities officials are urging residents always to keep cleaned up, but in the absence of a general response to that appeal they are strongly in favor of a clean-up week as the best substitute.

STOP PASSING BATTER

Rule Suggested to Make Baseball More Interesting.

Free Pass Evil is "Booed" by Every Fan Who Really Loves Game—Batter Always Anxious to Boast Batting Average.

Whenever a batter receives a base on balls, or is hit by a pitched ball, the manager of the team at bat may have the alternative of permitting the batter to take first base, as has been customary under the present rules, or he may put a base runner on first base and permit the batter to continue at bat. The base runner substituted shall be permitted to re-enter the game at any other time as a base runner, and the batter shall not be forced out of the game as is the custom under the present rules when a man runs for him.

The rule above will accomplish many things, make the game more speedy, make for more control on the part of the pitchers, make more and better base running, make it necessary to keep at least one lightninglike runner on the squad and do away with intentional passes.

Perhaps where it will make the biggest hit with the players is that it will make for bigger batting averages. When a batter is hit by a pitched ball or passed by being given four balls, he is not credited with a time at bat, it is true, but, on the other hand, it is a time he does not have a chance to make a hit, and every batter wants as many chances to boost his batting averages as possible.

The free pass evil is "booed" at by every fan who really loves the game. To not permit a brilliant hitter like Cobb to get a fair chance at making a hit, when a hit means runs and perhaps the game, is something the fan towns upon.

He wants to see his hero stride up to the plate, pick out one to his liking and smash it out for a three-bagger or a homer and send in runs ahead of him.

BODIE DISLIKES BIG LEAGUE

Demon Fence Buster and Macaroni Consumer Was Kicked Out of Majors by Paragraphers.

The humorous sport paragraphers never did appeal to Ping Bodie's sense of humor.

They grated on Ping's nerves so long that they finally succeeded in driving him from the big leagues. Ping is on the coast now and doing well, and according to reports from that western extreme of the continent,

WALTER JOHNSON

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH JOHNSON?

It is not very often that a baseball team performs the rare feat of driving Walter Johnson from the pitcher's mound, yet the Boston Red Sox, without the services of Tris Speaker, forced the great hurler to withdraw in Boston. In the sixth inning Boston hammered the delivery of the Washington star for a double and four singles in a row, netting four runs.

Ping wouldn't return to the big show even if he got the opportunity.

Out on the coast the demon fence buster and macaroni consumer is quoted as saying: "No more big league stuff for mine. They kicked me out of the majors and I'm through with them. I'm content to play in the minors, because here the fans are kindly in their treatment toward me. So are the players. The sticks are good enough for me."

NOISY COACHING IS POPULAR

Jimmy Callahan, New Manager of Pirates Disagrees With Former President Taft.

Professor Taft's idea of voiceless coaching, as expressed by the former president at the recent National league banquet, seems unpopular. Jimmy Callahan, new manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, is one manager who has announced his stand against quiet coaching.

"Noisy coaching may not suit men of a sensitive nature, but I believe the fans generally in the United States like it," said Callahan in reply to Mr. Taft. "Half of the sport in the game would be taken away by stopping the noise in connection with the sport and I don't believe the men who make baseball rules will ever legislate out loud coaching."

"Nerve is a vital essential for a ball player, and if he has it the coaching doesn't bother him. If he hasn't, then he is one of the few who will object to the loud coaching."

Paddy O'Connor Retires.

Paddy O'Connor has about decided to give up baseball to be one of the proprietors of a "lifesaving" station.

KELLY POOL—Whose Turn to Buy? By BRIGGS

"Tux" is the genial smoke! There's vim and punch and get-there energy in every fragrant puff. Get the bustling, hustling spirit of "Tux" into your system and it'll give you an outlook on life fresh as a morning glory at 5 a. m.

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

A whole lot of men at one time or another have tried to smoke a pipe—and used the wrong tobacco. Result—a hot tongue and "cold feet." Try again with the right tobacco—Tuxedo!

Tuxedo has made thousands of happy, contented pipe-smokers because it's so wonderfully mild and cannot burn, bite or blister the tongue or irritate the throat.

The rich, sun-ripened leaf for Tuxedo is aged 3 to 5 years. Then it's treated by the original "Tuxedo Process"—a doctor's discovery—which removes every particle of bite. There are many so-called processes—all are imitations of the "Tuxedo Process"—none has ever even approached the "Tuxedo-Process" in making tobacco leaf mild and wholesome.

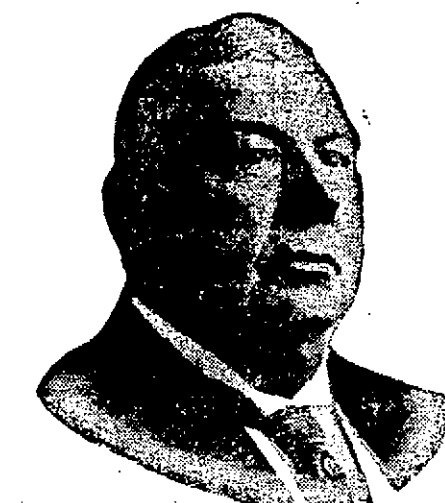

Try Tuxedo for a week and learn what it means to love your pipe.

Does Newspaper Advertising Pay?

A large paint manufacturer asked this question of retailers throughout the country:

NO. 3 SAID.

"I believe that advertising in the local paper brings new customers into my store and that it keeps the old ones trading here. I do not trace any per cent of sales directly to this kind of advertising."

"I know that everything that I put in the paper is read, as I have the people tell me about it. I do know that I bought almost as much paint in 1915 as in the two years previous, and that I did much more advertising in the paper in 1915."

OLIVE, OLD AND NEW.

Up-to-Date Items and Review of 60 Years Ago.

Shokan, April 20.—Clayton Waters and family moved to Kingston Tuesday.

Ralph Clearwater of Kingston called on friends here Tuesday. The many friends of Benjamin Giles are sorry to hear that he is confined to his house by illness.

Next Wednesday expects to build near the Van Stenburgh place. William Bogart suffered an attack of acute indigestion Sunday.

Elmer Bedell had the misfortune to grind up some of the bearings in his big motor truck last week.

Sunday's parade of new and old cars was quite a sight. Evidently when a Kingston or a New York party gets a new car they hasten to show it off around the reservoir.

The sap season was the poorest in years. It hardly paid to get out the buckets. Most of those who made syrup will board it up for their own hot cakes next winter.

The superintendent started highway work this week. There is a lot to do this year, so be patient, everybody. We know it is human nature to "knock" the "commissioner," but give him a chance to make good first. That's fair play.

Floyd Goldman and family are moving into Ed Jones's house at Ashokan.

Some one might find a bargain in the discarded tin roofing which lays near the parsonage barn.

Frank Waters, the timber contractor of Kingston, breezes into our little village quite frequently now. Some good lookers here, eh Frank? and not all timber either.

We understand that the Reformed Church "Every member" canvassers had a very successful afternoon last Sunday. We are glad to hear that because it is certain that a community which gives to the church is good at heart.

Has the great body of water in our town anything to do with the high winds which have prevailed this year? Tuesday night's gale was a house-rocker and no mistake.

Some of our people are now getting their season permits for fishing in the reservoir. Black bass, salmon trout and pickerel for our tables again this summer.

Winn's stage is a great convenience for us. Good service Howard, and we appreciate it.

Our "Old Olive" articles seem to create a bit of talk around town. Where do we get the "dope"? Oh, leave that to us, friends. We guarantee the authenticity, so you should worry.

Dr. Gebhardt, secretary of the board of education of the Reformed Church, spoke at Sunday morning's service and gave a very interesting illustrated lecture in the evening.

Granville Weeks advertises an auction of household goods for May 1.

Nell Creighton and family will move into Augustus Green's tenement house.

Charles T. Page has a fine lot of White Leghorn and White Plymouth stock chicks. Although he is a B. W. S. engineer, Mr. Page, like many of his colleagues, is an expert at raising chickens.

Mrs. Emma Every entertained a number of out of town relatives Sunday afternoon.

Time to clean up around the house and grounds. Every Sunday several thousand people will pass our doors. What will be their impression of Shokan. It's up to you, neighbor. Odd piles of lumber, rubbish heaps, brush, buildings in need of paint and so on drag down the good name of a town. Stick up before the busy season comes on.

Boys, if you can't get up nerve enough, suppose you put it this way: "How would you like to live in Burr Elmiendorf's new cottage. I hear he wants to rent it?"

Don't forget the interesting farmer's meeting in the Tongore school house Friday evening.

Homer Markle is having his house repainted and a new roof put on. Giles & Persons are doing the work.

The pictures given by Mr. Plakner, under the auspices of the Mens' Club were well worth going out to see. Although the night was very stormy, quite a crowd were present, and nearly everyone stayed to the oyster supper, which was gotten up by "Van," chef for Jules Bruchaud. It was such a supper as we used to have when we were young—if you know what we mean. The remainder of the evening was spent in listening to the incomparable Ward & Hunter, entertainers. Par excellence.

Olive Sixty Years Ago.

On Saturday, April 23, Musical Association met at H. B. Bartlett's, and on the following Saturday at John Keator's in Olive.

On April 22, 1850, a baby girl was born to L. D. Eckert, Jr., and wife.

April 22, 1840. Heavy snow, which would have been 10 inches deep, had it not melted.

On Sunday, April 30, 1863, President Lincoln's Fast Day was observed. The Rev. Mr. Penke preached in the Dutch Church.

The Class of 1841 met at the church Tuesday, April 18, 1854.

Sunday, April 30, 1854, was the date of a high froster. The Esopus bridges at Shokan and Pikesville Falls were carried away and much other damage was done.

April 21, 1850. Uriah North and Charlotte Foster married.

On April 10, 1855, Elias Ashley of "Soyessant" Falls and Rebecca Ann Emery of Olive were married in Hurley.

David Crozier of Hurley, Green county and Bethiah Brown, daughter of Isaac Brown, were married April 14, 1861.

April 27, 1862, the Rev. Mr. Hunt preached in the Dutch Church, the church being without a pastor at that time.

Don't get the idea that Olive is only 60 years old for it was seventy-five years ago, April 16 when Mr. Herlow preached in the church a Bible class was started, and J. D. Merrihew died of injuries received Mr. Merrihew's funeral held the next day at S. Merrihew's. On the following Saturday there was singing in the Dutch Church school house. Yes, and on April 24, 1862, Peter Worden and Mary Hutchins were made man and wife. We can't go back further, but it is past bad time now.

LOGGING ON THE RONDOUT CREEK

Carloads of Timber Dumped Into the Creek and Huge Rafts Formed Which Are Later Towed up Creek to Boatyards—Running Full Time on Boatyards.

The Rondout creek front near the old Mary Powell dock presented a scene of unusual activity today when a big gang of men were busy unloading huge carloads of timber and dumping the big sticks into the creek where they were lashed together forming mammoth rafts. These rafts are later taken in town by a Cornell tug and hauled to the boatyards of Schoonmaker Connors Company and Daniel Murphy up the creek.

This lumber is shipped into Kingston by way of the Ulster & Delaware railroad and instead of hiring teams to convey the lumber from the cars to the boatyards it has been found cheaper and quicker to switch the loaded cars onto one of the switches along the dock and then dumping the timber into the creek where huge rafts are formed.

All of the boatyards along the creek are rushed with work and besides the several barges already launched since the opening of navigation there are a number of other boats in the course of construction. With the boatyards running full force the upper creek presents a scene of great activity, and the boat building industry is one of the most important in the city employing as it does several hundred of men.

Judge Jenkins has reversed the judgment of Recorder Lang sentencing Mrs. Irma Jones to the Bedford Reformatory for Women. The case was appealed from the recorder's court by Frank W. Brooks, attorney for Mrs. Jones. The decision of Judge Jenkins was based on the fact that Recorder Lang excluded certain testimony relative to proving the defendant's good character and some testimony of one of The People's witnesses and also because the complaint was defective. Mrs. Jones was convicted, together with Mrs. Krom, Mrs. Krom's daughter also being convicted at the same time of the charge of being a disorderly person. Since her sentence, Miss Krom has given birth to a child at the county jail.

KOSCIUSKO LODGE WINS PENNANT

Captain Whitbeck's Pinochle Experts Win City Odd Fellows Championship at Pinochle—Other Lodges Hope For Better Luck Next Year.

The great pinochle tournament being carried on the past winter by the three Odd Fellows lodges in this city was brought to a close on Wednesday evening when the tie for second place was played off in the rooms of Kosciusko Lodge between the representatives of C. S. Clay Lodge and Aretas Lodge, which brought the tournament to a close with Kosciusko Lodge winning first place, Clay Lodge second, and Aretas Lodge third.

Captain Whitbeck and his experts are very modest over their victory and say that it is entirely due to the secret practice work they held and to the fact that they were expert as cards. While Aretas Lodge finished third, yet Captain Bush said to the victors at the close of the tournament, "Well, boys, I congratulate you on your splendid victory, but remember, look out for us next year."

The winning team will be presented a left-handed pennant to be raised on a left-handed flag pole. This is due to the fact that Captain Whitbeck is left-handed and it was to his good left hand that victory perched on Kosciusko Lodge.

"Well, there is one sure thing," said Captain Hasbrouck of Clay Lodge as he arose from the card table after his team had walloped Aretas Lodge two straight Wednesday nights. "And that is I won't have to eat those half a dozen raw eggs that I agreed to eat if Aretas Lodge had shoved us down into the cellar position."

The most intense interest has been manifested in the tournament and Odd Fellows have dreamed and talked pinochle ever since the contest started. The season closed as follows:

	Won	Lost
Kosciusko Lodge	34	26
C. S. Clay Lodge	30	26
Aretas Lodge	28	34

THEY SAY.

The street conversationalists have been busy talking about the proposed Charchian Shirt Factory on Cornhill street. They say that a much smaller building than that announced will be constructed because the company is not willing to invest much money in the structure. Architect Myron S. Teller this morning said that he has not changed the plans announced a few weeks ago and a three story factory will be built. The contracts have not yet been awarded, the bids being considered by F. Jacobson & Son at their New York office.

Now that the trout season has arrived tales of fishermen's luck are being told. A good one on one of our local trout experts is being told by his friends. It seems that he was an interested visitor at the recent auto show and as a result he soon afterward became the purchaser of an automobile. He explained to his friends that the real reason for buying a car was it would come in so handy to make trips to the streams where the trout lurked and he would not have to depend on railroad trains when the trout were biting but could return home at any time he desired. The other day he started out on his first fishing trip. He returned later that day and to his admiring friends he said that while he had only caught one trout—something remarkable by the way for him to admit—that it was due to the fact that he did not make the trip especially to fish for trout but to try out his car.

PERSHING'S FORCE AT A STANDSTILL

St. Antonio, Tex., April 20.—Major General Funston announced today that all efforts to capture Francisco Villa have been halted. He said the entire plan of campaign would have to be changed.

General Pershing's punitive expedition is at a standstill until the arrival of General Scott, chief of staff, said General Funston. The whole plan of campaign must be changed. Our men will simply mark time unless attacked by Mexicans.

The United States cavalry is now in a most delicate position. There is no grass and little fodder. Water is scarce.

General Pershing has fallen back from Saltillo. Most of the advance cavalry has also been called back. There are only a few small detachments south of Saltillo.

The situation is now up to Washington. Without railroads a new base and more men, General Pershing can do no more.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Frank Sands and Mrs. Ruth Field, both of Kingston, were married at the parsonage of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church on Wednesday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock. The pastor, the Rev. George M. Cranston, performed the ceremony and the couple were unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Sands left for Hudson for a short trip after which they will take up their residence in this city.

Jackson-Gerhardt.

Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Irene A. Gerhardt, daughter of Mrs. Margaret T. Gerhardt, of Hamilton street, Albany, to Robert H. Jackson, of Jamestown, Monday, at 12:30 o'clock, at Peter's Church. The attendants will be Miss Elizabeth M. Gerhardt, sister of the bride, and Frank H. Mott, of Jamestown. Mr. Jackson is a graduate of the Albany Law school in the class of 1912.

McCord-Vandemark.

A quiet home wedding took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Greeley Van Demark at Wallkill Tuesday when their only daughter, became the bride of Frank McCord of Gardiner. The ceremony, which took place under a large wedding bell, was performed by the Rev. Sheldon Van Derberg of Shawangunk. Miss Edna Lingee of Colden Hill attended the bride as maid of honor and Edgar McCord, brother of the groom, acted as best man. The couple will make their home in Gardiner.

Dougherty-Strubel.

Miss Hazel Strubel and Clarence Dougherty, both of this city, were married at the parsonage of the Trinity M. E. Church on Wurts street by the pastor, the Rev. P. C. Weant, on Monday evening at 6 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Dougherty left on the 7:10 o'clock West Shore train later in the evening for New Brunswick, N. J., where they will make their home. The bride couple have a host of friends who wish them a long and prosperous married life. Mr. Dougherty is employed by an automobile concern at New Brunswick.

Symphony Subscribers and School Children.

All persons holding subscribers' tickets for the Kingston Symphony Orchestra concerts, may exchange their tickets for seat coupons at Winter's music store on John street, Friday morning, beginning at nine o'clock. The sale of single tickets will begin on Saturday morning at the same place. The public rehearsal and concert will be given at Kingston opera house on the afternoon and evening of Tuesday next, April 25th.

Today all children in all of the public schools were notified that they would not receive any special prizes for the public rehearsal in the afternoon of Tuesday next, but they may go directly to the opera house and pay their ten cents there just as they do when they go to the moving picture shows. Since it will be vacation, the public rehearsal will begin at three o'clock, and the Symphony Society hopes that there will be more boys and girls at that public rehearsal than they have ever been privileged to welcome before. Mrs. Perlina Hendricks Wood, of New York who used to be a Kingston girl and who went to No. 11 school, although it was No. 11 then, is going to play a piano concerto with the orchestra, and the young people will remember that a piano concerto is the kind of music that Mr. Dodge played with the orchestra. If the boys and girls will see that they can learn about the great composer, Schumann, before the concert, it will help them to understand this concerto which he composed. Any good encyclopedia will give a short sketch of Schumann's life, or better still, much can be learned about this great musician at the Kingston City library.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, April 20. People in Ellenville have been in receipt the past week of the annual book of the Lake Mohonk House. It is considered to be one of the handsomest of its kind ever issued. The house opens its forty-seventh season on Friday, May 12, and closes on Tuesday, October 24. Daniel Smiley, proprietor. The first published booklet of Mohonk declared: It has been the aim to provide the comforts of a good home at reasonable rates for the refined and moral classes. In forty-six years the house has grown from a tiny inn to a great modern structure, but the old ideal is unchanged. It is still the aim to provide at reasonable rates a true summer home with all the informality, the goodfellowship and the moral influences you would wish in your own home. It is the general testimony that Mohonk has no rival east of the Rockies in marvelous variety of scenic beauties—lake, mountain, forest, valley and distant view. In picturesque the Shawangunk range on the boldest peak of which Mohonk lies, is unique among eastern mountains. The well developed water covers more than eight square miles. The same plenty of room, pervades the big house. Mohonk's ambition is to satisfy, to make each guest a lasting friend. The word house is used advisedly for the eight distinct but continuous buildings erected now and then to meet increasing demands, form a summing but harmonious structure, suggesting rather a country home than a hotel, a distinction that is endeavored to apply to the hospitality within. There is no monotony at Mohonk, as the many beautiful half-tone colorings of all the different places the book contains, make all who peruse the book feel at a glance they would like to be there on a warm July day or in the beautiful days of lovely September.

A very beautiful line of flowers for Easter are on sale at the grocery store of George J. Hoornbeck on Canal street, which are very attractive to all the village people and Mrs. Charles Delaney and son, Sidney Delaney, are spending a few days with relatives in Kingston.

Mrs. Addie V. Keeler is on a visit of some days with her sisters, Mrs. Robert O. Webb and Miss Katherine E. Morse, in New York.

Mrs. E. A. Smiley entertained a circle of friends of the M. E. Church at her home on Church street Wednesday afternoon. Very fine refreshments were served the ladies by the hostess.

Services on Good Friday.

Good Friday services at St. Mary's Church will commemorate the three hours agony of Our Lord on the cross by appropriate services, which will extend from 10 until 3 o'clock in the afternoon. There will be sermons on the seven last words on the Cross by the rector, the Rev. John J. Hickey, and the musical program will be in charge of Mrs. William Leary.

SOCIAL SERVICE BUREAU DAY

On May 1 the Bureau Wants to Publish a Huge List of Names of New Members Obtained Before That Time.

May 1st is to be "Social Service Bureau Day." The officers of the Bureau want to publish on May 1st a monster list of names on which shall appear that of every man and woman in Kingston who has in them one spark of that greatest of all virtues—charity.

No matter what you do for others, or how you do it, you can increase your efficiency by paying $1 to the Bureau of Social Service, and doing your charity through that organization.

If you do not understand how it works to your own particular advantage, take the trouble to find out. The bureau whose offices are in the Municipal Building on O'Reilly street, is open from 9 to 5 every day except Sunday. Any questions regarding the methods employed in the work will be cheerfully answered.

The officers of the organization are bursting to tell you about it. They are enthusiastic and want you to be enthusiastic too.

Judge G. D. B. Harbrouck is the president and glad of it. John D. Schoonmaker is the first vice-president and wishes he had more to do.

Mrs. W. Scott Gillespie is the second vice-president and takes time from her beloved Sunshine Society to help the bureau along. The Sunshine Society works hand in hand with the bureau. Mrs. Laura MacMillan is the secretary and the whole thing, one of course is a splendid thing, and gives her entire time to the work. William F. Rafferty is the treasurer and wants all the money he can get, for he knows it's going to be used right.

Then people like Everett Fowler and Sam Bernstein and Mrs. George Chandler and Miss Margaret Riseley and F. J. R. Clarke are chairmen of the various committees, and they are all eager to have everybody know what a perfectly splendid thing this bureau is for the city of Kingston.

It costs so little to get in, why stay out?

Hot Liners.

(By Frank G. Menke.)
The manager's advice to the players pulling a "bone."
"Run home! Go home!"

Tesreau slid about 25 feet in the seventh inning yesterday trying to beat a throw home. Before he could get his wind back after his dirt wallowing stunt the Dodgers had four runs across.

It was the Brooklyn's first win and incidentally it sent the Giants down to the cellar.

The Red Sox and Nationals showed a true patriotic spirit. Each did the Alphonse and Gaston act.

"Chief" Bender is the same old terror. Called upon in the ninth to save the game he twirled the Phillies to victory over the Braves.

The Giants may be in the cellar, but one New York team is in the fore—the Yankees are leading in the American.

Freddy Welsh meets Ever Hammon tomorrow night. The champion better look out for the sledge-like blows.

Three pitchers could not save the White Sox from the avalanche of hits from the Browns bats.

Trailing the Arbutus.

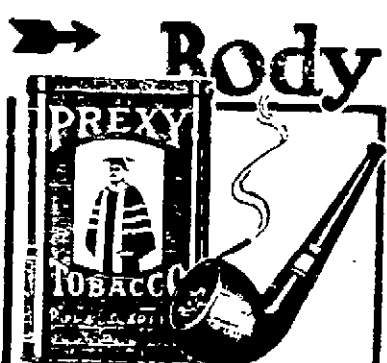

Trailing arbutus is beginning to appear and will probably be found in abundance by the last of the week. Some who pride themselves on being the first each year to secure the little flowers have been out, but did not find much to reward them for their trouble. There were many buds about ready to open, however, and they will soon be gathered in. Those who gather the flowers will confer a favor on all lovers of the beautiful and fragrant blossoms if they are careful to avoid pulling up the roots, even if they are not able to get as long stems as they would like to have. It is only by such care that supplies for another year are conserved.

Special Easter Service.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Fair Street Reformed Church will hold a special Easter service on Sunday morning at 9:15, uniting with the society of the First Reformed Church and the Epworth League of the St. James Church. This promise to be an inspiring and helpful service and a cordial invitation is extended to all Endeavorers in the city to attend.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

"Ol' Wagner's through," the "ex-perts" claimed.

"His clouting eye is gone."

"He's crippled with the rheumatiz."

"He's weak where once so strong."

Ol' Wagner hopped up to the plate

And lammed the ball a mile.

"Yes, I'm old; quite old," he said,

"but,

"I guess I'll stick a while."

Righto.

It is the proud boast of Al Demaree, of the Phillies, that he can bat as well with his eyes closed as when he has them open. The man is right. If you doubt it, get a microscope and look at his swatting record in former years.

Another Foreign Invasion?

Our Thorpe, the speedy New Zealand pacer, may be championed in the United States this summer. The harness champion won 5 out of 8 races last season, the distances varying from one to two and a half miles.

Our Thorpe's mile record is 2:07 1-5. That's not fast in comparison with some of the domestic speedsters, but in New Zealand the standing start prevails. Here the horses get away to a flying start. That gives them several seconds advantage, at least.

Fans 26—Loses Game.

Big League scouts are focusing their attention upon a youth named Watson, who achieved considerable glory a few weeks ago pitching for the Trinity University team in Waxahatchie, Tex.

The game was against the Texas Christian University team. It went 14 innings and during that period Watson fanned 26 batsmen. In the first nine innings he struck out 21 men. And yet he lost the game because of miserable support; score, 4 to 3.

Marietta's Great Record.

The Marietta College basketball team of Marietta, O., has just completed a remarkable season. It won 17 of its 18 games and in doing so captured the championship of three states—Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky.

Marietta scored 846 points in its 18 combats, compared with 395 by its foes. Its only defeat of the season was a 35-34 meeting with the whirlwind Lehigh University quintet. Donald Whiting was the star of the Marietta squad. He established a record that never may be beaten, scoring 428 in the 18 games, an average of nearly 24 per game and a total greater than that scored by all the ninety men who were pitted against his team during the year.

Jim Flynn—Goodbye!

"Pueblo Jim" Flynn seems to have played out his string. Father time is counting out the grand old war horse of the prize ring. For 15 years Flynn stood up under the terrific strain of milt duelling for 15 years he lingered near the top.

And now the end has come. Look! Dillon started him down the chute that leads to oblivion. A "never wuzzer" named Chambers gave him another push a few nights ago when he landed a knockout punch upon the battered jaw of the veteran.

The passing of Flynn from the pugilistic spotlight marks the passing of a real fighter; of a man who gave the best that was in him at all times; who never knew the meaning of the word "stall"; a fighter who really was a fighter.

Goodbye, Jim Flynn; goodbye—and good luck.

A Nose-y Quarrel.

The municipality of Little Rock, Ark., disputes a certain Chicago claim. The Windy City folks assert that it is Rollie Zeider, of the Cubs, they own the most wonderfully beaked ball player in captivity.

"Taint—it ain't," yell the Arkansas folks. "Our manager, Charlie Starr, has a longer nose than Zeider—oh, much longer."

And there you are. The only way to settle the question of nose supremacy seems to be to get Zeider and Starr together and use a tape measure.

Here's a New One.

There's a certain hotel in Sydney, Australia, which advertises thusly in "Snowy" Bakers program:

"We are only one hundred yards from the Stadium. The first man to reach our hotel with the complete news concerning the result of the bouts will be given a prize of one pint."

The "ad" doesn't mention the fluid. Probably that is optional with the winner.
